

ELAINE R. QUINN

Woman, mother and mystic living and working in the Netherlands, born and raised in Ireland, and lived and explored in Australia and England along the way for several years. The pivotal moment in awakening my spiritual and mystic life, as simple as it seems, was forming a deep commitment in 2008 to making inner peace my highest priority. For years, this path has unfolded alongside a career and work in legal and corporate realms. In 2014, I began holding the question of how to merge spirituality and law and the philosophical underpinnings of what that means. More recently, this has evolved towards the more focused lens of feminine spirituality.
